

Parent/Guardian Forums on Restorative Justice in the Milton Public Schools

Restorative Justice is an approach, mindset, and flexible set of practices that put relationships and connection at the heart of a community. All parents and guardians from our Pre-K to 12 schools are invited to meet MPS's new district-wide Restorative Justice Coach, Adina Schechter, to learn more about how this approach can create transformational change in our school district. There will be both in-person and virtual options the week of March 21st. Please sign up in advance so we can plan accordingly.

There are four options to attend!
